Message from the Principal's Desk

Dear Parents,

Welcome back to the school! We hope that you are healthy and well, and were able to enjoy the Eid with loved ones over the break. Five successful years have passed since we started our journey with you. It was in 2017 we started DPS Ajman with a strong foundation, a clear vision and a fresh set of goals and objectives. We believe the choices we made at the beginning and continue to make in support of our students, faculty and staff, guided by our mission, will take our team to great new heights in the future.

We are grateful to have such a knowledgeable and dedicated team to support our students and mission to help each and every child realise his or her full potential in order to become a responsible and productive citizen of the 21st century who appreciates the multi-cultural society in which they live. With this goal in mind, we have planned for a year filled with activities that will bring out and nurture the talents of the students in more creative ways.

Over the past two years, as we faced the pandemic crisis, we rallied together and found new ways of proving each other's support like never before. In addition to our focus on academics and building relationships, we embedded technology throughout every learning experience. From school wide assemblies, zoom meetings, virtual field trips, celebrations and class parties, our school community persevered. We are committed to providing the same level of connectivity and care, along with the academic rigor that is necessary for our students to achieve at high levels from this school year too.

As communicated recently with you, we will be launching the new Bring Your Own Device (BYOD) program soon. Providing our students equitable access to high quality learning remains a high priority to us. Hence, we have developed a curriculum that combines classroom learning with technology-based instruction. We plan to begin by implementing a pilot program that would have students in grades 6 through 9 bring their own devices to school to engage in new ways of learning in the first phase We plan to begin by implementing a pilot program that would have students in grades 6 through 9 bring their own devices to school to engage in new ways of learning in the first phase . We have also made significant investments in modernizing the school ICT infrastructure to state-of-the-art wireless network, firewall and application suites with the right security and monitoring of usage.

Despite the challenges we have faced in the community and in the world, I am optimistic that our DPS spirit, positive energy, teamwork, and commitment to excellence for our DIPSITES will lead us to another great school time ahead.

Warm Regards

Dr.Vishal Kataria

Digital Citizenship

Technology has become an important aspect in our lives. But, when one gets obsessed with technology, then that is a problem. And, we aim to be successful professionals, and global citizens. Unfortunately, digitally we tend to be the exact opposite of who we are, turning into keyboard warriors and neglecting digital citizenship.

Digital citizenship is defined as individuals and groups cultivating values, skills, attitudes, and knowledge via successful and positive involvement with digital technologies. As part of a lifetime learning process, they evolve in many ways. Effective social participation is required to comprehend the meaning of digital citizenship. Through the ethical use of technology, effective social involvement in the digital world protects human rights and dignity. A good digital citizen can see the important need for digital citizenship in a virtually connected world and take steps to learn one's own position as a digital citizen in society.

According to The Council of Europe's Competences for Democratic Culture (Council of Europe, 2016), the meaning of digital citizenship can only be fully realized after its critical role in educating young minds for the future has been recognized and applied. And it is important to realise that where education, healthcare, and different sectors have digitalised, global citizenship will also be digitalised. Because, we first need to be improving our character-building and then focus on other fields as it forms the basis for any human being.

Digital Citizenship – Are You A Responsible Citizen

I say, “Tweet others the way you want to be tweeted”. With technology creeping up around every corner, and the way it’s become a part of our way of life, it’s becoming harder and harder to be at our best behaviour online.

Well, first citizenship which is formally defined as “the quality of an individual’s response to membership in a community.” This makes citizenship far more complex than a simple legal matter, but rather one that consists of self-knowledge, interaction, and intimate knowledge of a place, its people, and its cultural history.

So digital citizenship is nearly the same thing – “the quality of a response to membership in a digital community” would be a good first crack at the definition.

Digital citizenship shouldn’t be a long list of don’ts. It should be about the do’s that help create thoughtful, empathetic digital citizens who can wrestle with the important ethical questions at the intersection of technology and humanity. Those do’s include:

- * Using technology to make your community better.
- * Engaging respectfully online with people who have different beliefs than you.
- * Using technology to make your voice heard by public leaders and shape public policy.
- * Determining the validity of online sources of information.

Digital citizenship goes beyond conversations about personal responsibility. It’s about being active citizens who see possibilities instead of problems, and opportunities instead of risks as they curate a positive and effective digital footprint.

Digital citizenship is a topic that is essential in the modern world. We are trending towards a society where more people are more connected, and as such, it’s vital that we are all aware of our responsibilities and able to navigate our own digital lives.

Teaching digital citizenship means understanding the key elements of the subject and helping learners reach that same level of awareness.

Half-Decade Journey with DPS Ajman

Being a part of Delhi Private School Ajman since september,2018 has been extraordinary as this school serves no less than a second home. This branch of the DPS society has all the facilities a student needs to head forward towards a bright future. The teachers here are very friendly and have always been ready to help us even at the twelfth hour. All the students here, from the shy to the bold, the introvert to the extrovert, the average scorer to the topper , have been given equal opportunities. The school holds many functions and carnivals which give the students a better chance to represent themselves apart from that on paper. The functions and carnivals held, have not only helped the students but also the parents to interact better with the teachers. A very close bond has been created between my teachers and me within a short period of time just because of their helpful nature and their understanding demeanor. I consider this school as the best school among all the schools I have been to , not because I am studying here now but because of what the school has contributed and presented since the time I have been studying here. My experience at DPS Ajman has been incredible. I personally love this school and I assure that the other students feel it too.

The foundation of DELHI PRIVATE SCHOOL AJMAN was laid in 2017 and today in 2022 it has completed its five years successfully. I am excited to celebrate the hall mark in the history of the school. I am proud to be a student here for the past five years because the environment at my school is very conducive to studying and pursuing our goals. My school's staff is courteous, knowledgeable and highly trained. They prepare us for various competitions, and every year, my school receives numerous prizes. In fact, I competed in a KENKEN championship representing my school and earned a silver medal. We master numerous fundamental abilities likewise in school. Discipline, difficult work, and reliability are some of them. The most compelling motivation behind the achievement and popularity of my school is our Principal, Dr Vishal Kataria. He is extremely dynamic and trained. He has a persuasive character, and his insight is praiseworthy. I respect his character and standards. He generally urges us to participate in different extracurricular activities, and it is the aftereffect of his help and commitment that the students of my school are able to perform better in every one of the rivalries.

It is the first place where the students come out of their family circles and create a new one with their teachers and friends. One should also remember that everyone is not privileged enough to get an education. If one gets this opportunity, then be grateful and work towards being a better human being. Cherish your school life and stay motivated. I once again congratulate all on reaching this Half-Decade Milestone. May it continue to flourish for all times to come!

CONTINUOUS PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SESSIONS(APRIL 2022-2023)

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." – Nelson Mandela

The aim of The DPSA'S professional development is to provide specialized training in the latest pedagogy and classroom practices for educators to further develop their professional knowledge, competence, skill, and effectiveness.

At the beginning of every term a 'GOOGLE SURVEY FOR TRAINING NEEDS' is done to determine training needs of our staff, and the PD calendar is planned based on the need of staff that is identified through the 'SURVEY' , lesson observations and the latest trends in education.

Teachers attended five days of CPD sessions on various topics a week prior to the start of the new academic year.
